WELL HARDLY!

The Mob That Came From Mayfield Determined to Lynch Stone, Found

THEIR GAME HAD FLOWN.

Sheriff Holland Had Taken Good Care to Have His Man Safe. They Say.

THEY WILL HAVE HIM YET.

A mob of fifty or seventy-five determined citizens of Mayfield arrived on the 12:55 "cannon-ball" this morning after Jim Stone, the negro charged with committing the outrage upon Mrs. J. M. R. Green at Mayfield night before last, but was thwarted by Jailer Miller and Deputy Grady, who had previously been apprised of the mob's intention and made preparations for saving the prisoner's neck.

In the mob were almost as many boys as men, and Prof. Green, husband of the victim, seemed to have assumed the leadership, and carried a long hemp rope with a noose in it, to use as a necktie if the opportunity presented itself.

The "cannon ball" does not stop in the yard at 12:55, but the mob had decided to leave the train at the Jackson street crossing, and there was put off. Conductor Tom Ruff was the first to report the presence of the mob at the Union Depot and by 1:10 there was quite a crowd leisurely awaiting developments, standing in the court house square.

The mob formed in line at Jackson street four abreast and almost noiselessly trudged down Jackson street to Eighth, thence to Adams and then down Sixth street to the jail.

Deputy Jailer Grady had a surprise in store for them, however, as the prisoner had only fifteen minutes before been spirited away from the jail, placed in a hack with Sheriff Holland and deputies and driven off.

It was said that Stone was taken to Eddyville, and that he was taken aboard the same train that the mob came on, as it was going out. This, however, is discredited, for Sheriff Holland was seen at Sixth and Adams about 1:30 this morning, during the antics of the mob at the jail, and upon being informed as to the existing state of affairs, remarked that he guessed it was advisable not to go to the court house. He stated that the negro had not been taken away on any train, according to the gentleman who met him, but also said that he was not in the city.

The mob, however, surrounded the jail and was cordially invited by Deputy Jailer Frank Grady, who had the gloomy bastille well lighted all over in anticipation of their visit.

"You can come in gentlemen, and look for yourself," he announced. "The prisoner has been taken away by the sheriff and you have the privilege of looking through the jail, so you will be satisfied."

The mob fairly bristled with Winchester rifles, shot guns and pistols. Most of the boys carried guns and pistols, too, and one had an ax, while clubs were quite numerous. "Keep watch, men, while we go through," shouted one of the leaders and four or five of them were turned into the jail to search for leisure. It was a dejected looking crowd that returned, and the attention of the men was then directed to the court house.

"He's in that court house," yelled some one, and then the leader shouted, "surround that court house, surround that court house!" and a wild rush was made for all sides of the edifice. Lights and keys were procured and every nook and cranny from cellar to cupola was thoroughly searched, but, of course, they had been put on the wrong trail, and the final evidence of discouragement began to manifest themselves.

A vain effort was made to go out and stop the train Stone is supposed to have gone on, but it had departed half an hour before.

Some one about this juncture started the report that the prisoner was being driven about in a hack to await the disappearance of the mob, and some of the men scattered and began looking for hacks. All search in this direction also proved fruitless, and the mob partially dispersed, a large number remaining at the court house, not convinced that their intended prey had escaped. They intended to string Stone up and return to Mayfield on the 1:52 train, but missed the latter by a great deal and were compelled to start back on foot or remain until the next term of circuit court, about four months hence. There were not over seventy-five of them, according to Conductor Ruffin, who took their tickets.

When Stone was taken from the jail by Sheriff Holland he seemed to realize his peril, for according to Deputy Grady he trembled in every limb, and could hardly walk.

The mob meant business, and if he had been gotten his life wouldn't have been worth a pinyune.

There were quite a number of Paducah men in the crowd that seemed eager to take a hand in the lynching, should one occur. In regard to the formation of the mob, as soon as people in Mayfield were pretty well convinced that Stone's guilt they determined to go.

ment, ordered the prisoner to the McCracken county jail, and he was taken charge of by Sheriff Scott Cook and a deputy. They boarded a local freight, and soon it became known that the officers had the hated suspect on the train preparing to bring him to Paducah.

A hundred people or more went down at once and Lucius Blalock, who was bolder than the rest, boarded the platform of the caboose and forced his way half in when the officers covered him with their guns and told the mob if it made any hostile move Blalock would be killed. No pacification could be secured until Prof. Green made a speech, saying that although he was satisfied Stone was the right one, there was not yet in his opinion ample evidence to convict. The train remained there half an hour or more, but there were no further attempts at molestation.

Conductor Ruffin had considerable trouble in collecting fare, and a number of the men refused to pay it. When the south-bound train arrived at 1:57, Engineer Joe Randall received orders to stop for nothing, and although some of the mob had become discouraged and reached the yard in time to return home, the train swizzled past at a rate of forty miles an hour, and they returned to the city.

Sheriff Holland was seen by a Star reporter this morning and said that Stone was near the city, but that he would not disclose his hiding place until the mob left. He heard several groups of men making threats against him for taking the prisoner off, but none of them recognized him in the darkness. No one knows the hiding place except himself, the guards and the colored hack-driver, who knows where the officers got off, but not where they secreted the prisoner.

"They had a good chance to hang the man in Mayfield," said Sheriff Holland, "and I am inclined to think that they refrained simply because they did not want to take him away from their own officers, but concluded to wait until he was in our charge and attempt to run the bluff in on us. We didn't propose to submit to anything like that, and if they had found me last night when they were looking for me I would have died before I'd have told where we had him hidden. I am not in favor of any man that commits a crime like that, and think if guilty he ought to be hung. But when a man is in my charge nobody can take him away as long as I can protect him."

Gentlemen from Mayfield this morning state there is now little doubt of Stone's guilt in Mayfield. Everybody is satisfied that he is the right man, and whenever he is taken back there, no matter if it is a month or six months, he will be lynched. Stone was previously charged with assaulting Mrs. Wm. Ligon, who was a year ago dragged from her door into the yard and assaulted. He could not be proven guilty, however.

Most of the mob has now returned to Mayfield. Some left on the early local freight and others walked. Stragglers with guns and other weapons could be seen on the streets until daylight. They went through the lockup after every other means of finding Stone had been exhausted, and while some of them are still here they nearly all returned home before noon today. Judge Sanders was awakened early this morning by hearing a man loudly exclaim, "I don't know a thing about it, honest I don't. He heard this several times and finally got up and went to the window, seeing two hacks surrounded by a half dozen men, the hackmen protesting that they knew nothing about the prisoner, or where he had been secreted. It was learned that they treated every other hackman likewise, but did not get the right one.

It was reported this morning that the colored people also formed a mob last night in the southern and southwestern portion of the city for the purpose of hanging George Jones, the darkey in jail here charged with committing an outrage on his twelve-year-old sister-in-law, if the other man was hanged. This rumor was doubtless not authentic.

WAIVED EXAMINATION.

Jim Stone Will Not Have to Go Back Soon.

Was Kept Last Night at a South Sixth Street House.

It is likely that Jim Stone, the Mayfield rapist, will not see the latter city for many a day. Although it is not generally known, he waived examination yesterday afternoon before Judge Moss at Mayfield and was held to answer without bail.

It was then deemed safest to send him here, and it was here that he was brought. His waiving examination precludes a preliminary hearing, and he will not have to be taken back to Mayfield until the next term of circuit court, about four months hence.

Stone was last night kept, it is said, heavily guarded at the residence of Bud Butler, on South Third street, near Nunn's grocery store. He was brought out early this morning and returned to the jail, although nothing could be learned relative to his whereabouts.

HAVE STOPPED

Mr. Eli Everly called to see the sheriff and his flat is now Lord Salisbury, the statement over, at the residence, St. Louis.

NO CHANGE

Will Be Made in the Returns By Returning Board.

BLACKBURN URGES RECOGNITION

Of Belligerent Rights for Cuba—Sherman and Fred Grant for the Cabinet.

AN INSANE MOTHER'S TERRIBLE DEED.

Frankfort, Nov. 25.—It is stated on good authority that the bluff and bluster of the silverites will have no effect on the returning board who hold the election to have been fair, and the returns correctly made. No change will be attempted in the returns.

Reed Refuses.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—It is the general belief here based on the best information obtainable that Thomas B. Reed will not accept a place in President McKinley's cabinet. It is also stated on good authority that Mr. Sherman and Fred Grant have accepted portfolios offered them.

Murder in Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 25.—Eldred Kenney found his way into the room of Dave Edwards in this city today and shot him to death. An old grudge has existed between them for some time.

Wheat Takes a Bound.

Chicago, Nov. 25.—Wheat took a bound on change today and quickly rose to eighty-four cents. The incentive to the rise was reports of shortage in European crops.

An Insane Mother's Terrible Deed.

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 25.—Mrs. Gwearner, wife of a rancher living near here, in a fit of insanity last night stabbed to death her three children and then cut her own throat.

Blackburn Urges Action.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—Senator Blackburn, of Kentucky, has joined his voice with those who are urging the necessity of immediate action in the matter of the recognition of Cuban belligerency.

Seventeen Persons Burned.

Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 25.—A destructive prairie fire has been raging in this vicinity for some hours. Two white children and fifteen Indians have thus far been reported burned.

Two Killed, Many Injured.

New York, Nov. 25.—In a wreck on the New Jersey Central, at Brunswick this morning, two persons were killed and a large number injured.

300 Spaniards Killed.

London, Nov. 25.—A Singapore dispatch to the "Times" says that the Spaniards have been defeated by insurgents in the Philippines, with a loss of 300 men.

Wets vs. Drys.

Owensboro, Ky., Nov. 25.—Another fight is on between the wet and drys. The prohibitionists decided last night in a mass meeting to petition the court a second time. Petitions will be circulated at once asking for a local option election.

Christmas Bees for England.

Paris, Ky., Nov. 25.—Tomorrow C. Alexander will ship from his farm in this county 650 head of Durham cattle to London markets for Christmas bees. They average 726 pounds. They are the heaviest lot ever shipped from Kentucky. It will require fifty cars divided into two trains to transport them to Norfolk, Va., to take the steamer Huron for London. Nelson Morris, of Chicago, purchased the entire lot.

Temperance People Win.

Mayfield, Nov. 25.—The whisky contest, which was for trial this week, was dismissed by the contesting board, the contestants failing to appear and prosecute the contest. The contesting petition stated several grounds of illegality in the election, which was held in September. The temperance people carried by nearly 100 majority, and it is supposed the matter will now rest, at least until the legal time in which another vote can be taken.

Returning Board Meets Friday.

Frankfort, Nov. 25.—Attorney General Taylor and Secretary of State Finley had a conference yesterday and decided to begin the official count of the vote Friday, or possibly as late as Saturday. This was done in order to give anyone who wished to be present at the count an opportunity to be there.

May Not Rebuild Eddyville.

Frankfort, Nov. 25.—Auditor Stone, Treasurer Long and Attorney General Taylor returned yesterday from Eddyville, where they went to look into the feasibility of rebuilding the town, which was destroyed by fire.

Died of Pneumonia. Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 25.—Mrs. M. B. Robinson, a prominent pioneer woman of this county, died at her home, near Howell, yesterday after a brief illness of pneumonia, aged 74 years.

Gov. Bradley Talks. Frankfort, Nov. 25.—The governor opened his lips yesterday on the subject of an extra session for the first time since the question has been under discussion. Even then he left more mystery about it than he cleared away. He said: "The statements going the rounds that I decided to call an extra session of the Legislature for December 1, then for December 6, and then for January 1 are, each and all of them false. I have never said to any human being that I would call an extra session or when. Neither have I ever indicated that I would call an extra session for any of those dates. Nor have I ever indicated that I would not call an extra session."

Kentuckians Benefitted.

Augusta, Ky., Nov. 25.—Every day that passes more firmly convinces the National Democrats of this locality that their party acted for the good of the country in the late election. Numbers of farmers in Bracken, Boone, Grant and Scott counties have invested heavily in Arizona fruit lands, the water for which is to be supplied by an irrigating company of foreign capitalists. The entire $2,000,000 worth of stock had been spoken for, and preparations made for work to commence on the system on a large scale. The probabilities of Bryan's election caused the withdrawal of all support and the abandonment of the undertaking. The result of the election being for sound money, the enterprise was again taken up. Had this business failed, it would have forced some of the most influential men in northeastern Kentucky to the wall.

BARRED OUT.

Sound Money Democrats Not Allowed in Democratic Primaries.

Lexington, Nov. 25.—The silver Democratic State Central and Executive committees yesterday, in secret joint session assembled, resolved that it was the sense of the meeting "that only those voters who supported the nominees of the Chicago convention at the late national election should be permitted to take any part in any Democratic convention, primary election or precinct meeting to be held in the various counties for the purpose of nominating candidates for the county offices." They practically decided to contest the election of Republican presidential electors, and appointed a committee to represent the party at the canvass by the state board, and also a committee to whom they should report for final decision as to whether or not there should be contests; they appointed a committee to prepare an address to the "Democrats of Kentucky" some time in the near future, and they referred to a special committee the well advanced plans for starting a free silver morning daily newspaper in Louisville.

General Weyler, in An Interview, Says Couldn't Get Sight of THE WILY CUBAN GENERAL.

Admits That He Doesn't Know Where Maceo is.

THE SPANISH ARMY TO RETURN.

Havana, Nov. 24.—The unexpected arrival here of Capt. Gen. Weyler from the province of Pinar del Rio without having been successful in bringing about an engagement of any importance with the insurgents under Antonio Maceo caused much comment here today, and there were many rumors in circulation. On one side it is asserted that Weyler's return means that he will shortly return to Spain on some plea or another. Officially, however, this is denied. The impression prevails that there will shortly be important changes here.

La Lucha's correspondent in the field had an interview with the captain-general previous to the latter's arrival here from Artemisa and Mariel, and it is gathered from statements of the captain-general is said to have made that he may not resume personal charge of the operations against the insurgents in Pinar del Rio. In this interview the captain-general was asked for an expression as to the course of the campaign, and he said:

"I am contented with it. We entered Rubi hoping to give battle to the combined insurgent forces, and you know what the result was. They went southward, much to our regret. Maceo himself went toward Mocurrijas, Mayari and Corajal da Yaniguas. Nevertheless, our columns, in two divisions, arrived without firing a single shot, and only saw a band of about 150 insurgents in the woods near San Luis."

The captain general was then asked if he knew the whereabouts of Antonio Maceo at present. He answered:

"His whereabouts are not unknown. The truth is that the insurgents were not found in the mountains nor on the plains. Nevertheless, they boast that our troops always fly before them." He was then asked if many cattle remained in the part of Pinar del Rio which he had visited, and he said:

"Not many. Only a few bullocks and calves remain. The insurgents have killed or captured the rest." Speaking of his operations since leaving Havana, for Captain General explained that he had been all over the mountains, and had camped several nights in the woods. From other sources it has been stated that he has frequently been without his regular meals, and that he has slept on the ground in the rain.

Here We Are Again, Testimonial No. 6.

What Mrs. Will Watkins, No. 324 Adams street, says of Roncador Tonic: "For years I have been a sufferer from female weakness, so bad that I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I had those terrible pains peculiar to all women, no appetite, all worn out, pains in the back twice in the morning, no ambition to do anything, in fact had given up all hope of ever getting well, but thanks to Roncador Tonic I am on the road to recovery, and all the ladies here in Paducah, if they will take my advice, will call at once at the office of the company and try one bottle, as I feel sure it will help them."

WORD comes from Madison county that the farmers are organized to refuse employment to all who are in favor of the gold standard. The fools are not all dead yet, it seems.

tal in one of the most sensational murder trials that ever occurred in Georgia.

Gov. CLARK, of Arkansas, attempts to be as silly as Gov. Stone clamation, but makes a dismal failure of it. When Stone acts the fool he

THE Paris "Figaro" warns the United States that war with Spain means war with Europe; but then the "Figaro" has not produced credentials showing its authority to speak for Europe. Several of the European countries have troubles of their own to settle, which are quite as much as they can attend to without taking up those of a moribund despotism like Spain. The United States and Spain will probably settle their own disputes should they have any.

MR. McKINLEY is thoroughly committed to the civil service law and will not endeavor to evade any of its provisions. In fact it is an immense relief to the president and the heads of departments to find themselves freed from the necessity of distributing offices to the extent of 35,000 or 40,000 places. The patronage is a source of weakness rather than strength to the president, and all future presidents who are wise in their generation will rise up and bless the day when the civil service law was passed.

In the commission of extravagant and expensive follies no state in the Union has equaled Populist-ridden Kansas. The latest tom-foolery reported from that state is a proposition to make Mexican silver dollars a legal tender for debts. There is no danger of its being done, as such a law would contravene both the constitution and the laws of the United States and be void, but that it is suggested even, to or by members of the legislature, is sufficient evidence of the brevity of intellect that prevails among her politicians.

THE Chicago Federation of Labor, at its regular Sunday evening meeting, after a protracted and warm debate tabled a 16 to 1 declaration in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver. The Federation is a new organization, having swallowed up the two old Central Labor bodies. The organization has been regularly chartered by the American Federation of Labor, and it will be the only central body that will be recognized by the Federation in Chicago. This action of the Chicago Federation is full of meaning.
The laboring men of that city have had enough of politics and they most sensibly propose to do all in their power to stop agitation and to let business have a chance to improve.

SENATOR LINDSEY, who has been a strong supporter of the president and who is supposed to be very near him at the present time, is in favor of action by this government tending to the amelioration of the Cuban condition. From this it is inferred that himself has almost become convinced that the situation demands action. It is possible the activity displayed recently in improving the coast defenses is the result of a determination to take action with reference to Cuba and the desire to be well prepared in the event of war with Spain following upon such action. To the average American it does not look as if there were anything to fear on that score, but in such matters it is always well to be ready for a possible event, however improbable it may seem.

SHERIFF HOLLAND deserves the highest commendation for his prompt action in preventing the prisoner whom the Mayfield mob sought, falling into their hands. If he is the guilty man his death only would satisfy the people. But his guilt has not been established by any means, the victim of the outrage failing to identify him as the perpetrator of the dastardly deed. Lynching bees are very unfortunate under any circumstances, but especially so when the evidence against the accused is not conclusive. It is not infrequently the case that circumstances point very strongly to an innocent man as guilty of a crime. The law's delays are impatiently endured in cases like this one; but mobs are only calculated to demoralize public sentiment and lower the popular estimate of the law's efficiency and of the value and sacredness of human life.

PADUCAH'S OPPORTUNITY.

The probability of the location in this city in the near future of a chair factory from New England calls attention to the fact that Paducah is a most desirable place for wood working factories, as well as for cotton factories, as was stated at some length in a recent issue of the SUN.
Its rare transportation facilities, its proximity to an unrivaled market and to the raw cotton are the leading reasons why Paducah should be the site of one or more cotton factories. The same general reasons apply to the chair manufacturing business.

The manufacture of chairs demands the smaller growth of various hard woods. All of their various hard woods are found in great abundance on the rivers whose waters roll towards and past Paducah. The Cumberland, the Tennessee and the Green rivers all can pour the wealth of their vast territory into Paducah, log rafts from the Cumberland and Tennessee most all come to this city before they find a market. It is said upon undoubted authority that the largest area of forest yielding the peculiar kind of wood needed in chair making, that is to be found in this country is the portion of Kentucky and Tennessee that is drained by the three rivers above named.

In addition to the ease of procuring the raw material, Paducah is an unrivaled distributing point for the whole South and the vast Southwest, which is the market especially desired to reach by the company proposing to locate its plant here.

Of all these facts the people of Paducah are well aware. The business men realize their city's great advantages. But the public at large is not familiar with these facts. The northern investors or manufacturers are seeking southern locations for cotton factories or better locations for their establishments do not know of the peculiar advantages possessed by the city of Paducah. The great Southward movement has only just begun. Paducah's advantages entitle her to a generous share of the benefits of the Southern revival. These cannot be received, however, without work on the part of Paducah.
Her merchants, manufacturers and real estate owners should combine and by concerted action should advertise the resources of the city and should see to it that parties desiring to make a change are made acquainted with the advantages possessed by this city. This subject, which is merely hinted at in this article, is one that must be seriously considered by the people of this city before Paducah will secure the measure of prosperity that her peculiar location entitles her to.

NOW FOR HARD WORK.

The Manufacturers' Record, of Baltimore, Md., which for years has been the ablest and most loyal exponent of the industrial possibilities of the South, and which has probably done more than all other journals put together to hasten the remarkable industrial development of the South, makes the following sensible remarks:

The time is now propitious for the south to drop politics and turn its attention to the upbuilding of its material affairs. On this all men can unite. If the press and the people of this section will now drop silver and tariff and all other political subjects, discourage all agitation, and for four years bend every energy to material advancement, there will be a wonderful change. Thousands of people now idle will be given employment, untutilized water-powers will sing a new song of prosperity as they turn the spindles of hundreds of new mills, waste land will become valuable, the great store of latent mineral wealth will be quickened into life to pour an unceasing stream of riches to their owners, thousands of settlers coming from elsewhere will dot the land with new and thriving communities, and over this great and glorious region that stretches from Maryland to Texas will be heard "a continuous and unbroken strain of wist has been applied to the music of progress—the whirr of the spindle, the buzz of the saw, the roar of the furnace and the throb of the locomotive." The South wants no croakers and no idlers. Let us have "a long pull, a strong pull and a pull all together" for Southern prosperity. It will be time enough four years hence to take up political agitation.

A SUCCESSFUL AIRSHIP.

Positively Asserted by a Prominent San Francisco

Attorney.

An Interesting Description of

Experiments and Trial

Trip.

The San Francisco "Chronicle" publishes an account of a successful airship built near Oroville, California. The account says:

About 1 o'clock last Monday morning the inhabitants of Sacramento, who were astir at that hour, claimed to have seen an airship passing rapidly over the city. Some merely say they saw a bright light, while others went so far as to say they saw a cigar-shaped flying machine and heard human voices from it. The residents of Oakland also say they saw the same sight a few miles ago.

The story of the mysterious airship has been told all over the state and has created considerable amusement, as it was generally believed to be a hoax. The "Chronicle" prints an interview with George D. Collins, a reputable lawyer of this city, who says that the airship is a reality.

Attorney Collins says:

"It is perfectly true that there is at least a successful airship in existence, and that California will have the honor of bringing it before the world. I have known of the affair for some time and am acting as attorney for the inventor. He is a very wealthy man, who has been studying the subject of flying machines for fifteen years, and who came here seven years ago from the state of Maine in order to be able to perfect his ideas away from the eyes of other inventors. During the last five years he has spent at least $100,- 000 on his work. He has not yet secured his patent, but his application is now in Washington.

"I can not say much about the machine he has perfected, because he is my client, and besides he fears that the application will be stolen from the Patent Office if people come to know that his invention is practicable.

"I saw the machine one night last week at the inventor's invitation. It is made of metal, is about 150 feet long and is built to carry fifteen persons. There was no motive power as far as I could see, certainly no steam.

"It is built on the aeroplan system, and has two canvas wings, 18 feet wide, and a rudder, shaped like a bird's tail. The inventor climbed into the machine, and after he had been moving some of the mechanism for a moment I saw the thing begin to ascend from the earth very gently.
The wings flapped slowly as it rose, and then a little faster as it began to move against the wind. The machine was under perfect control all the time.

"When it got to a height of about 90 feet the inventor shouted to me that he was going to make a series of circles and then descend. He immediately did so, beginning by making a circle about 100 yards in diameter, and then gradually narrowing it until the machine got within thirty feet of the ground. It then fell straight down, very gracefully, and touched the earth as lightly as a falling leaf.

"The reports from Sacramento the other night were true. It was my client's airship that the people saw.
It started from Oroville, in Butte County, and flew sixty miles in a straight line, directly over Sacramento. After running up and down once or twice over the capital, he came right on, a distance of another seventy miles, and landed at a spot on the Oakland side of the bay, where the machine now lies, guarded by three men. The inventor found, during his trial trip, that his ship had a wave-like motion that made him seasick. It is this defect that he is now remedying.

"In another six days the trouble will be done away with, and it is then his intention to immediately give the people of San Francisco a chance to see his machine. He will fly right over the city and across Market street a dozen times. I can not tell you where he is housing the ship, or what his name is, as I am under a pledge of secrecy, but it is a fact that the machine does its work perfectly and will astonish the world and revolutionize travel when it has been displayed before the public. The inventor can fly with it to New York tomorrow if he wants to.

He has forsaken the idea of Maxim and Langtry entirely in building the machine, and has constructed it on an absolutely new theory."

In the case of Mr. Collins' statement, there are many skeptics, who say flatly they do not believe his story.
It is almost incredible that an airship 150 feet long could be secreted in the building near San Francisco without the fact being made public.

The mysterious lights seen over Sacramento, if any were seen, are thought to have been meteors, which passed within range of the vision of belated citizens, who thought they saw an airship.

Killed For Good and All.

The agitation set on foot twenty years ago by corrupt and selfish owners of silver mines has been nearly as harmful as the great war.
The miserable humbug and fraud upon which many incompetent men rode into office was killed "for good memory is all that now remains to disturb or annoy the patriotic people of the nation.—Vicksburg (Miss.)

Naughty Wyoming.

Wyoming is certainly the most immoral state in the Union. In an article in the "North American Review" Bishop Doane quotes a Mrs.
Cannell as saying that "after six months' residence in Wyoming divorce may be obtained for eleven reasons." If this is the result of six months' residence it is no wonder that the state went wrong in the election.—New York Tribune.

Vice President Stevenson is still explaining the big upset of Nov. 3.
The general belief is that Brother Stevenson's opinion would possess a larger degree of contemporaneous human interest if he hadn't been one of the fellows who were caught under the wagon.—New York Mail and Ex-

In fact, a man can maintain a bawdy house, he said.

Will Hornbeak at His Same Old Tricks.

Will Hornbeak's familiar face was seen in the police court this morning after an absence of many days.

Hornbeak is just back from the penitentiary, where he served two years for breaking into Con Crowley's grocery.

Last night he, Alice Duncan, Isadora Herring and Will Doyle were out on Washington street painting the locality a lurid vermilion.

Hornbeak claims that the Duncan woman "called him out of his name" and a fight ensued. He stabbed her in the thigh with a knife, but the wound is not serious. Attorney J. H. Ford was appointed to defend him and the case was continued until Friday. The whole crowd was drunk, from reports. The charge against Hornbeak is malicious cutting.

As usual at this season of the year many "out of work" railroad men are passing through the city. Some deserving and really looking for work, while others are busier hunting "chuck" from their order members than they are employment.

An interesting relic of the late war came by express this morning from North Carolina, consigned to Major W. G. Whitfield, of the city. It was the musket and cartridge box that he carried through that sanguinary struggle. The reminiscences that the sight of them will bring to mind will no doubt be interesting and pathetic to Comrade Whitfield. Bring them up and let us see them, W. G.

Mr. J. L. Webb, the foreman in the yard here, has lately moved his family to the city and is located at 1005 Eleventh street. His little son, Lucius, is a whopper for an 11-year-old "kid." He is as tall as most boys at 15 or 16 years, and his avoirdupois is just 144 pounds. His 8-year-old sister, Lulu, is not so large, but she is away over the 100-pound notch. The two attract great attention among the railroad people.

TAKEN TO EDDYVILLE.

Sheriff Holland Takes Rapist Stope Away.

This afternoon at 2:55 o'clock Sheriff Holland and Deputy Utterbach left with Jim Stone for either Eddyville or Henderson, most probably Eddyville. The officers were accompanied to the depot by Jailor Miller and Deputy Grady, and the utmost precaution was exercised.

The authorities feared trouble and Judge Bishop this morning made the order authorizing the change. Nothing was said to anybody and the officers did not disclose their destination.

NARROW ESCAPE.

A Horse and Wagon Slide on the Wharf.

This forenoon Councilman Livingston's team slipped into the river at the wharf while a load of goods was being carried down. The horse went into the water and but for the chain attached to the wharfboat would have been drowned. As it was the horse was badly skinned and bruised and the wagon was slightly wrecked. The goods were all recovered without damage.
